How to book hijab styling at home in Amsterdam

To book home hijab styling in Amsterdam, message Sinem on WhatsApp with the date, your neighbourhood and the time you need to be dressed and ready to leave. Say whether you want an occasion hijab, a bridal hijab with a veil, or makeup as well. You can then ask for availability and the total price. There is no travel fee.

What to send

Try this: “Hi Sinem, I’m getting married on [date] and getting ready in Amsterdam [neighbourhood]. I need to be ready by [time]. Are you available for bridal hijab styling with a veil, and what would it cost?” If anyone is getting ready with you, say who would like hijab styling or makeup.

Show the details you want to keep visible

A photo of the neckline of your dress is a good place to start. A close drape can leave an embroidered collar in view. If you want to show your earrings or wear a family veil, mention that too. A photo of your own scarf gives a better sense of its texture and colour than an inspiration photo alone.

Agree on a time and price

Sinem brings 20 years of experience and charges no travel fee for coming to you in Amsterdam. Ask for the total for your chosen services, then work backwards from the time you need to leave to agree on a start time.

Booking styling at an Amsterdam hotel

If you do not have a room number yet, send the hotel name and street when you enquire and agree how to share the room number later. Check that you will have access before styling is due to start.
