Which accessories suit my bridal hairstyle?

A comb sits well above or beside an updo. Small pins can be scattered through waves or braids. With looser hair, a headband can create a clear focal point. Consider the weight and fastening when choosing.

Check how the detail looks across a room

A delicate pearl pin may stand out in wavy hair up close and disappear in a group photo. Try one pin in place and ask someone to look from across the room before deciding how many you want.