What does styling on my wedding morning involve?

Start with the first fixed event, such as the photographer arriving or the ceremony. Work out where hair or hijab, makeup, dressing and the veil fit into the morning. Give any relatives who also want styling a place in the schedule.

Give someone else the doorbell

If the photographer arrives during the finishing touches, ask one person to answer the door and take your calls. Write their name next to the expected arrival time so you can stay in the styling chair.
